The specific action that this article has on the Liver and Digestive Organs, render it a complete antidote for Fever and Ague, and Bilious and Tystus Fever.

CHASEVILLE, (L. I.,) July 17, 1850.

DEAR SIR: I have used the article of Planett's Bitters, and have derived from them great benefit. I have been subject for years past to the Fever and Ague, but since the introduction of your bitters I have entirely escaped my usual attacks, and can with confidence recommend them as one of the best Ponics in the Properties of the Properties of the Ponics in the Properties of the Properties of the Ponics in the Properties of the Properties o with confidence recommend them as one or the control of the contro SPRINGFIELD, June 20, 1850.

My Dear Sin: It gives me much pleasure to state, that the Dyspepsia with which my wife has been so long troubled, arising from inaction of the Liver, has been entirely overcome and cured by the use of your invaluable preparation of Bitters; and for your kindness in recommending them please accept my thanks. New students are recommended to enter at the opening of the session, but are received at any time they apply, and the charge is estimated from the date of their entrance.

The College has the usual number of classes, affords all the opportunities of a complete education, and, at the successful termination of the collegiate course, confers on its graduates the usual academical degrees.

The Grammar School, immediately adjoining the College and under the supervision of the Rector, but under distinct discipline, receives lads at the beginning of their academical course, and prepares them for the collegiate classes. The oversight and direction of the Professors of the College secure special advantages to the pupils in the Grammar school.

In the Mercantile Classes, the study of the Greek language is omitted, and its place supplied

In the MERCANTILE CLASSES, the study of the Greek language is omitted, and its place supplied by additional studies in modern languages, book-keeping, statistics, &c.

The location of the College is entirely healthful, and, by its distance from towns and villages, very favorable to good morals and order.

The whole annual charge, the same in the College and Grammar school, for the session of ten months, is two hundred and twenty-five dollars, payable semi-annually, in advance.

BLACK WOOD'S MAGAZINE

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE
And the British Quarterly Reviews.

**REMIOMS TO NEW SUBSCRIEDS!*

OWING to the late revolutions and counter revolutions among the nations of Europe, which have followed each other in such quick succession, and of which "the end is not yet." the leading periodicals of Great Britain have become invested with a degree of interest hitherto unknown. They occupy a middle gr. and between the hasty, disjointed, and necessarily imperfect records of the newspapers, and the elaborate and ponderous treatises to be furnished by the historian at a future day. The American Publishers, therefore, deem it proper tocall renewed attention to these Periodicals, and the very low prices at which they are offered to subscribers. The following is their list, viz:

THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW,
THE EDINBURGH REVIEW,
THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW,
THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW, and
BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE. In these periodicals are contained the views, moderately, though clearly and firmily expressed, of the three great parties in England—Tory, Whig, and Radical. "Blackwood" and the "London Quarterly" are Tory; the "Edinburgh Review," Whig; and Radical. "Blackwood" and the "London Quarterly" are Tory; the "Edinburgh Review," Whig; and the "Westminster Review," Liberal. The "North British Review" owes its establishment to the last great ecclesiastical movement in Scotland, and is not ultra in its views on any one of the grand departments of human knowledge; it was originally edited by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by his son-in-law, Dr. Hanna, associated with Sir David Brewster. Its literary character is of the very highest order. The "Westminster," though reprinted under that title only, is published in England under the title of the "Foreign Quarterly and Westminster," It Defing, is fact, a union of the two Reviews formerly published and reprinted under separate titles. It has, therefore, the advantage by this combination of uniting in one work the best features of both as heretofore tasued.

The above periodicals are reprinted in New York, The above periodicals are reprinted in New York, immediately on their arrival by the British steamers, in a beautiful clear type, on fine white paper, and are faithful copies of the originals, Blackwood's Magazine being an exact fac-simile of the Edinburch edition.

that such a paper should be established at the sea of Government.

1. The number of those who use the German language as their medium of intercourse is upwards of Three Millions, and this number is constantly increasing by immigration.

2. The name of Democrats being the appellation of the liberal or popular party of Germany, to which all the immigrants before their emigration belonged, they do, of course, range themselves with the party bearing that appellation in this country, as soon as they are able to exercise the elective franchise; and the more so, as the country teems with Democratic papers in the German language, as soon as they are able to exercise the elective franchise; and the more so, as the country teems with Democratic papers in the German language, whose particular object and anxiety it is to use this misappellation to the best advantage.

3. Although there are a few Whig papers in the country, they bear principally a local character, and, relying for their support more on local patronage than on their subscription lists, they do generally stand or fall with the success or defeat of the Whig party in their particular section.

4. The Germans, however, being an intelligent and reading people, are accessible to sound argument, and a paper conducted with uprightness, and speaking the plais truth, will be able, by degrees, to overcome prejudices, correct errors and missapprehensions, and by its own direct influence, as well as by its influence upon the local Whig papers, now in existence, will, it is boped, produce the desired effect, and gain the reflecting and thinking, that is the influential, portion of the German citizens, over to the Whig ranks.

5. The undersigned is well aware that he has many and serious obstacles to overcome, but relying upon the power of truth and the co-operation of the Whig party, on account of the intrinsic merits of his enterprise, does not fear to be charged with entertaining too sanguine hopes, if he anticipates a satisfactory result.
